

About Engramo

Engramo English is a modern tool based on a personalized learning application of English grammar above the intermediate level. We present a fast lane towards English proficiency by offering custom-made adaptive learning algorithms working in the background and focusing on the gaps in each user's knowledge. This ensures that the learners practise what they need, when they need it.

Our custom-made course materials have been created by an international team of linguists and methodologists, who ensure that the content is accurate and up-to-date.

We are based in Prague, but Engramo runs only in English, so our users come from all over the world.
